

The Parsha Will Never Be The Same!

Some view it as a history book, others as a storybook, still others as a book of law. In truth, the Torah is a guidebook for living life the best possible way. But how are we to learn from the Torah's presentation? How can we live like the Patriarchs and Moshe? Are we condemned to the family squabbles of Yishmael and Yitzchok, Yakov and Esav, and Yosef and his brothers? How do we internalize the bondage in Egypt, the Exodus, the Splitting of the Sea, and the travails of the Jewish people in their journey through the desert"? What is the Tabernacle? Where is our manna? What of Balaam's curses, and who are the "spies" among us? And what do all the many Torah laws mean to our 21st-century way of thinking?

This first-ever compilation of Breslov thought on the Torah - shows the Rebbe at his best; extracting the hidden message in the familiar verses to reveal an entirely new way of looking at the Torah and at life. His words speak directly to our hearts, imbuing them with clarity and purpose.

Come, take the Rebbe's path and hear what the Torah has to say to you!
