

Major Announcement: Work on the Translation of Likutey Halakhot to Begin

written by breslov.org

November 6, 2012

At the New York Siyum Likutey Moharan, Chaim Kramer (founder and director of BRI) announced that work on the next major project: “Likutey Halakhot” would begin shortly. Siyum participants received an advanced sample copy of some of the future work although, the final style and details has not yet been established.

Click here to download the sample of this great initiative but please bear in mind that the final style and many other details has not been finalized, this is but one possible option for starting this immense project.

We look forward to finding partners in this amazing project, please contact us if you are able to join us.

Likutey Halakhot is a commentary explaining the laws of the Codes (Shulchan Arukh) in light of the Rebbe’s teachings, showing how each law is applicable to each and every individual, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week! It was written by Rebbe Nossan, Rebbe Nachman main disciple.

