Meir Elkabas discusses this week's Torah parsha, Parshat Tetzaveh. In this Torah portion, we learn that the bigdei kehuna (the priestly garments of the Kohen Gadol) number eight. Achashverosh donned the eight garments of the Kohen Gadol in order to further break the spirits of the Jewish people who attended his drinking banquet. What is the significance of these eight garments? Meir Elkabas explains. Like this video? Please Share and Like this Video!
