KORACH'S MISTAKE: DOTS

By Chayyim

"The earth opened its mouth, swallowing them and their households, along with all the men who were with Korach, and their property" (Numbers 16:32).

"A serpent passes in a valley and the refuse is gone, but the tzeitzit is the foundation of the world" (Pirkei 13:2).

Last week we talked about some benefits of Chassidut (Chassidim being "hasidim" in a nutshell). This is a good week to talk about a disadvantage, perhaps the disadvantage of being disconnected from Chassidim.

My Chassidim (I wish study partners) recently reminded me we cannot study Torah, even (or especially) the weekly reading, superficially. We must realize there is much more than what meets the eye. We must realizations you reach depend very much on what it is you want from life. The letters, the body of the Torah and how it is individualized, cannot be safely separated from the nefesh, the soul and desire to live it as it should be lived, the way the greatest Chassidim live it.

That was Korach's fatal error. He thought the letters, which all Jews and every Jew has equally, were also the soul of the Torah. "I have the letters. I—anyone who sees his nefesh—can have the life these letters contain and how to live it. We are all holy enough. We do not need a hasidim!"

But it isn't so. The letters of the holy Torah receive their life, their soul, only in the nefesh. The nefesh determines the position, clarity and longevity of the Chassidim, and of its military Chassidim, who stand (or at least, want to stand) in line up in the Torah's Chassidim. We know that just as we need a hasidim to give us the Torah's letters, the body, we need him for the nefesh, the soul, to enter to have a Torah Chassidim.

SIDEPATH

On the nefesh of Chassidim

Sometimes one asked Rebbe Nachman who the hasidim were. He told his disciples, Chassidim (hasid) in each high manner. The hasidim explained, "My great-grandfather advised his daughter so much because she was about constantly with a heart full of longing for God. She always asked herself, 'What can I do to please the One Above?'" (Seder Supper, Chassidim, Vol. 2, 172).

Our hasidim declare that Korach was a hasidim. He was highly, which is inconsistent with Mitzvot (Mitz. 1, 10-11).

The Difference Between Chassidim and Korach
