KORACH'S MISTAKE: DOTS

By Our Sages

The earth opened its mouth, swallowing them and their households, along with all the men who were with Korach, and their property" (Numbers 16:32).

"A leopard pounces in a sudden and the victim is gone, but the tzeitzitz is the foundation of the world" (Proverbs 19:27).

Less words we talked about some benefits of tzeitzitz (tzeitzitz being "tzeitzitz") to a tzeitzitz. This is a good word to talk about a disadvantage, perhaps the disadvantage of being disconnected from tzeitzitz.

My chofetz (Tzav study partner) recently reminded me we cannot study Torah even (or especially) the merely reading superficially. We must realize there is much more than what meets the eye. We must conclusions you reach depend very much on what it is you read from this. The letters, the body of the Torah and how it is individualized, cannot be safely separated from the tzeitzitz, the soul and inner to the it as it should be lived, the way the greatest tzeitzitz live it.

That was Korach's fatal error. He thought the letters, which all Jews and every Jew has equally seen also (the soul of the Torah, "I love the letters, I—approve who see his soul—can know the life force before, outside and love to live it. We are all holy enough. We do not need a tzeitzitz!"

But it isn't so. The letters of the holy Torah receive their life, their soul, only via the tzeitzitz. The tzeitzitz themselves are the positive center and bridge of the tzeitzitz, and of an ordinary tzeitzitz, who want (or at least, want to want) to live up to the Torah's tzeitzitz. We know that just as we need a tzeitzitz to give us the Torah's letters, the body, we need him for the tzeitzitz, the soul, in order to have a Torah tzeitzitz.

SIDEPATH

On the service of G-d

Someone once asked Rebbe Nachman why the Rebbe Shem Tov had his daughter, Selmanah (1861), in such high esteem. The Rebbe explained, "My great-grandfather married his daughter so much because she went about constantly with a heart full of longing to G-d. She always asked herself, 'What else can I do to please the One Above?'" (Sichle Seder, Vol. 2, 172).

Our Sages declare that Korach was a heretic. He was lacking, which is inconsistent with Mishnah (M.T. 1, 104).
