

Pathways: Shoftim

written by breslov.org

September 5, 2019

Rebbe Nachman said that a poor person is closer to God because he recognizes how much he has to rely on God for his every need. In fact, it would be a good thing if his followers were not wealthy. “Still,” Rebbe Nachman continued, “in each generation there will be a few of my people who will be wealthy enough to help others.”

Read the rest of Yossi Katz’s article and more in this week’s Pathways below.