

Pathways – Va'eira

written by breslov.org

January 3, 2019

Rebbe Nachman once took one of his close students with him for an early-morning prayer session out in the field. When they reached the entry point to an old volcanic cavern half-hidden among the brush, he gestured that they should enter and do their hitbodedut within the deep chamber.

Keep reading this and more in this week's Pathways.