

Sleeping Our Life Away

written by Rav Moshe Weinberger
September 10, 2019

Overview: HaShem wants to be in our lives. He invests so much in each one of us, yet do we do the same with him. Most of us have taken our Yiddeshkeit for granted and in doing so we open ourselves up to being taken away by the “lo-tov”, the no good. Can we keep ourselves from falling asleep?

A promotional banner for 'Rebbe Nachman's classic stories'. On the left, a laurel wreath frames the quote: "Others tell stories to put people to sleep, I tell stories to wake people up!". Below this, the title 'Rebbe Nachman's classic stories' is written in a bold, dark blue font. To the right is a small image of the book's cover, which has a textured, stone-like appearance with the title 'Rabbi Nachman's Stories' in gold. On the far right, a yellow circular badge with a dashed border contains the text: 'Buy now with code: 50offthestories and get 50% OFF & FREE US SHIPPING'. The background of the banner is a light blue sky with soft white clouds.