

The Day-by-Day Audio Podcasts

written by breslov.org

February 5, 2023

Many amazing things have started in Breslov history in this special month:

- The birth of Reb Noson (Tu B'Shevat)
- The opening of the printing press in Reb Noson's house
- The first gathering by Rebbe Nachman's grave after his passing (Erev Rosh Chodesh Shevat, 1811)
- And many other amazing things...

We too, at BRI are also starting something new.

Tomorrow – Tu B'Shevat – we will be launching our first set of daily podcasts on Rebbe Nachman's teachings.

Using the Breslov texts presented in our Day by Day series, there will be 10 separate podcasts – each on a different Breslov book, using the Tu B'Shevat date as the starting point.

For those interested in doing all 10 books – there will be an all-inclusive 11th daily podcast.

This way you can chose your own path of listening

In today's day and age, it has become much more convenient to swap a physical book for an audiobook/podcast.

Using a Daily Dose of Rebbe Nachman, a person could study Breslov teachings on a daily basis, completing entire books in the course of a year.

See Reb Chaim Kramer's presentation: